

Course description:

Subject introduces the fundamental knowledge and skills relating to software development. It includes the waterfall model of software development and related processes. Forcing employers to required teamwork at all stages of production of basic software.

Performed teach practical tasks to undertake and justify design decisions and present solutions developed.

Subject of work allows us to understand and practice software engineer prepares to work in this position.